Keziah Val Law

JAN 22, 1976 - NOV 17, 2018

Keziah “Kee” Val Law, age 42, died unexpectedly on November 17, 2018, in Baltimore, Maryland. He is survived by his parents, Rudolph Valentino Law and wife Claudia Law, of Tucson, Arizona and Robin Dale Mosley-Brown and husband Eugene Brown, of Townsend, Delaware; his wife Jennifer Aimee Law; and his children Kierra Valerie Clark, Keziah Aryon Law, Jaidyn Shabri Shipley and Deshira Amei Law; his siblings Heather Marie Schmidt, Shemeah Tamar Dale Law, Sylvia Jewel Law, Clarissa Adriana Law and Moryah Joselyn Lee; his grandparents Sarah P. Mosely-Rainey and Virginia Jewel Smith; his uncles Raymond Mosley Jr. and Roger Mosley; his aunt Rebecca Mosley; his nieces and nephews Ashley, Demi, Kenny, Chelsea, Sania, Suri, Jeffery and Sienna; and a host of uncles, aunts, cousins (special mention to John Harden who was at his side when he left us) and friends. He is preceded in death by his grandfather Raymond Mosley Sr., sister Roslyn Jane Schmidt-Harris and niece Brooke De-Shira Loatman.

Kee was born on January 22nd, 1976 in Woodbury, New Jersey to parents Rudolph Law and Robin Mosley-Brown. He attended Woodbury High School in Woodbury, New Jersey. He became a certified electrician and worked for more than 12 years in that field.

Growing up Kee was the typical outdoor boy riding motor bikes and playing knock knock zoom zoom. He was a great family man, a loving father and a supporting brother. He was a good husband and loyal friend. He loved his family and was always there when needed. His laugh made everyone else laugh. He never met a stranger and would give the shirt off his back for a friend. A night with his sisters always consisted of a game of spades, joking, laughing, dancing and eating great home cooked food. Kee was a big Eagles fan. If the family needed any repairs, he could fix about anything or would YouTube how, if he couldn't. He had the patience to teach and loved to show his children how to do new things. Fishing was a favorite pastime of Kee. He was a sentimental man and was always happy to host a football game or BBQ for his friends and family. He was full of energy, love and life.
