Dear Harry & family:Where do I begin. She was my friend, called and came to my house when I was diagnosed. She was a great support to me. She went through so much. For her, she is at peace with no more pain and no more tests. For us, sadness because we will miss her, but we will all meet again. Harry, you were so good to her. You were always there for her, and I know it was not always easy. May God be with you all as you mourn her loss, and I pray that God gives you strength each day to face tomorrow.##imported-begin##Sandra Turner##imported-end##
