I have known Dot Schweitzer since I was a little girl. She was friends of my parents..and I always enjoyed sitting and listening to the "grown-ups" talking about politics. She got a kick out of the fact that I liked grown-up talk at such a young age and often reminded me of it when I got older. I always had a special place in my heart for Dot and her husband Hank...especially because when I was only eight years old my father died in March of that year. Come Christmas time, my mother was trying to piece together a Christmas for my two sisters and I...and the only people who stopped by to offer my mother support that Christmas Eve were Dot Schweitzer and her husband Hank. My mother never forgot their kindness, and neither did I ...and so when I got married, the only people I invited to my wedding who were not my immediate family and people my own age were Hank and Dot Schweitzer. Later, as fate would have it, my step dad wound up marrying Dot's daughter Kay, and so I got to see Dot a great deal over the years when i would go to visit my dad and Kay. I will truly miss Dot and her cousin Iva who lived with dad and Kay in their last years. I so enjoyed their company and they looked forward to me telling them about the escapades of our farm animals. I have not had a lot of elderly people in my life, and I so cherished the opportunity to soak up their wisdom and making each other laugh. I will truly miss Dot and am very thankful that such a genuinely warm person was a part of my life for such a long time.

I am very sorry for your loss. I did not know Dottie personally, but I do know members of her family. During times like these I try to turn to the Bible for comfort. Scriptures such as Psalms 46:1 and 55:22 tell us that God wants us to throw our burdens upon Him and He will be there for us during our times of distress. I have found that the best way to do this is by getting to know God's real name which is found at Psalms 83:18. I hope the family can find a source of comfort in these scriptures as I have when I have lost someone close to me. You have my sincerest condolences.
