To the Dear Jackson and Mosley Families, I am saddened to hear of the Betty. I know how deeply you will miss her companionship on life's journey. She will always be dear to my heart as the warm and thoughtful on Bacon's Road who always had the door open to me through good time and bad. The children on our block always knew we could gather to play baseball in the yard or skate on the driveway in a safe and loving place. I will never forget her grace and dignity as she danced and shared her proud heritage with us at Pow-Wows. May you feel comfort in the love she has left in you hearts as she takes this journey before us. Lovingly, Wendy Jones Mitsui

I'm not sure what I was able to say or did say at mother's service Saturday, but this is what I was supposed to have shared with you there at her memorial service.....(thank you all for the love and support during this difficult time)We have so many wonderful memories of mother it's difficult to share just one. We were blessed with a mother who we knew loved being a mother to five (four)active kids-Harry was just boringly quiet. Mother was always in 'our' corner cheering us on or giving us much needed discipline, actually, she could discipline us with 'the look'....if we got 'the look', we knew that we were in huge trouble and if she had to 'speak' to us, we might as well say our prayers. But her discipline was partly because she knew she wanted us to be children who she could enjoy as well as having others enjoy having us around. Mother made us feel special when she would set a holiday table, we thought that we were at an expensive five star restaurant with our cloth table napkins, tablecloth, and mostly bargain tableware that we loved. With five kids we didn't have a lot of money to go around , but mother had a lot of love to go around for us and the neighborhood kids too who often ended up at our house for games, food and fun. Yes, she turned our front room into a sewing factory and to sew our school clothes and to save some of Dads hard earned money. Mother played every imaginable board game out there with us, she also went roller skating, camping, ice skating, biking, crabbing and whatever else that WE were into; she was right there along side of us creating those cherished memories. She played along side of us and we worked along side of her. She was the mother everyone else wanted. She didn't spoil us with things, but she spoiled us with her love and patience...she could see that perhaps she had diamonds in the rough and her job was to help us become the best that we could be. To say everything she was to us would be exhaustive for you. For those of you who have mothers like mine, cherish the one more conversation, the one more embrace, the one more whisper of 'I love you'; and know that in Jesus, one day we will be reunited and we will have this and so much more in eternity. Daughter Terri

Dear Family, I was so sorry to hear of your mom's passing. You are all in my prayers. Your mom played an instrumental part in my younger years. Your house was the place to hang out at. Playing basketball, softball, rollerskating, cards...it was a busy place. Your mom kept us all in line and kept your house in order. She was in my summation the pulse of the home. I remember her so fondly. Her dignity and beauty. She was warm and kind to all of the Greenwich kids. She allowed her home to be a second home to me and many others children. Thanks Betty for all your love and kindness. May you, as a family, find comfort now in knowing that she is in heaven and enjoying her mansion in the sky. Love you all, Polly Jones/Nye

Dear Family, I remember your mom and dad so well (and all of you too) when they and you all were living in Greenwich. I remember especially one day when I was talking to Betty at the post office where she worked. She told me that she had gotten a motorcycle so that she could ride with Harry on the weekends. I was so surprised but she said "the way to stay together was to do things together" and this is what Harry liked. She was a wonderful, kind and loving woman. I will miss her. Grace Ewing Thompson
